Initial Setup

In this initial setup we will create an environment in which we can use the git command, may it be on Windows, macOS or Linux.

Windows

Take into account the following considerations:

- First consideration
- Second consideration
- Third consideration

macOS

Open a terminal by accessing the Applications window. Then simply run the following command:

Examples

```
brew install git

By using your Distro's package manager, simply install git.

Important

Make sure to run the command as an administrator.

Use sudo.
